Switches & Circuit Protection

Carling Technologies®

Innovative Designs. Powerful Solutions.

With decades of design and manufacturing experience,

Carling Technologies is a leading manufacturer of switches and circuit protection products ideally suited for medical equipment applications. Carling's stringent quality and design standards assure conformance with the most demanding performance and reliability specifications of the medical industry.

CORPORATE LOCATIONS

Founded in 1920, there are few products that Carling Technologies hasn't turned "ON" and fewer industries that haven't turned to Carling for solutions. With ISO and TS registered manufacturing facilities and technical sales offices worldwide, Carling ranks among the world's largest manufacturers of circuit breakers, switches, PDU's, digital switching systems and electronic controls.
