

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Media contact: Kelli Sheatsley | Altitude Marketing | kellis@altitudemarketing.com | 610.421.8601

Orbweaver Goes Global With Australia-based Client

[BETHLEHEM, PA, MARCH 24, 2016]- Orbweaver Sourcing, LLC, the developer of the Orbweaver Platform, a highly adaptable, API-driven data normalization and transfer platform for electronic parts distributors, OEMs and contract manufacturers, has emerged as a global enterprise after securing a client in Australia this past month.

“Orbweaver officially going global is a huge milestone on the road to where we want to be,” said Tony Powell, Orbweaver’s co-founder and CTO. “We hope to continue expanding around the globe and become a leader in the electronics industry. We are passionate about the technology we have developed and how it can help facilitate the easy and secure transfer of data, regardless of where you are located.”

The Australian-based client found Orbweaver through its strong history working with Newark element14 customers. They will provide the new client with the same valuable services that earned them their excellent reputation.

About Orbweaver Sourcing, LLC

Orbweaver is the first and only provider of complete, real-time supply chain integration solutions for the electronics manufacturing industry. The Orbweaver Platform empowers distributors, manufacturers and contract manufacturers to instantly and securely transfer and use critical supply chain data, resulting in dramatic increases in efficiency, reductions in cost and improvements in customer service. Orbweaver is headquartered midway between New York and Philadelphia in Bethlehem, Pennsylvania. To learn more, visit orbweaver.com, or follow the company on LinkedIn and Twitter.

###