Team Portable SSD PD700

Up to 4x faster than traditional external hard drives (HDD)

PD700 is Team Group's latest high speed external storage product. It is using the latest USB 3.1 Gen2 interface and the newest Type-c cable to provide a transfer speed of up to 10GB/s. With an ultra high capacity of 960GB, it offers users a fast and direct way to access, edit and transfer files or applications. Users are able to enjoy and experience the sensation of a lightning fast performance without problem of lag. PD700 can also satisfy the need for high speed transfer and multimedia storage at any time. By making file sharing easier, important information is able to be completely stored instantly, offering an efficient digital mobile lifestyle to users.

NORMAL FAST SLOW MAX

Uncompromised perfection of the metal craftsmanship

PD700 combines both beauty and technology by using one entire piece of forged aluminum as basis of the process. The exterior design is using Aluminum concentric circles and diamond cutting. Through diamond cutting technology, and with seven steps of metal anodization process, the concentric circles are made not only to display an absolute minimalist design, but also an exquisite craftsmanship.

Easy to carry compact size

In addition to the amazing transfer speed, PD700 is only a little larger than the size of a name card. Its length, width and height are 108 X 50 x 11mm, and weighs only 120g, which can be easily carried in a pocket. The exquisite and compact size is convenient for users to carry around, and makes it is a multimedia database with high mobility that can store important files and precious memories at any time.

All-around protection of noise resistance, shockproof and fall resistance

With the built-in solid state disk, PD700 not only can achieve the best transfer performance, but also offers you an all-around protection for your data with capabilities of noise resistance, shockproof and fall resistance, so data corruption or data loss caused by external factors while using can be avoided. It is your best partner when living in a high efficient digital mobile lifestyle.
