

Evaluation Board for Single, High Speed Operational Amplifiers (8-Lead SOIC with Dedicated Feedback Pin and Exposed Paddle)

FEATURES

- Enables quick breadboarding/prototyping
- User-defined circuit configuration
- Edge-mounted SMA connector provisions
- Easy connection to test equipment and other circuits

GENERAL DESCRIPTION

The 8-lead standard small outline package (SOIC), with a dedicated feedback pin and an exposed paddle, evaluation board is designed to aid in the evaluation of single, high speed operational amplifiers. The evaluation board is a bare board (that is, there are no components soldered to the board) that enables users to quickly prototype a variety of operational amplifier circuits, which minimizes risk and reduces time to market. The evaluation board supports any of the Analog Devices, Inc., single, high speed operational amplifiers in an 8-lead SOIC package with a dedicated feedback pin and an exposed paddle.

The 4-layer evaluation board accepts edge-mounted Subminiature Version A (SMA) connectors on both inputs and outputs, which allows efficient and quick connection to test equipment or other circuitry.

The board ground plane, component placement, and power supply bypassing are optimized for maximum circuit flexibility and performance. The evaluation board uses a variety of surface-mount technology (SMT) component case sizes: 0402, 0508, 0603, and 7343.

NONINVERTING CONFIGURATION

When using this board in a noninverting configuration, with a gain larger than 1, there are two recommended ways to place the gain resistor. The first way is to place the gain resistor in the R1 location and uses a $0\ \Omega$ for the R2 location to short to ground. The second way is to place the gain resistor between the first pad of R1 and ground, without using a second resistor (see Figure 8).
